ANNUAL SECURITY REPORT

DENVER, COLORADO

INTRODUCTION

This brochure is intended to provide you — the students, faculty and staff of Johnson & Wales University — with information and statistics on crime and crime prevention on campus. The brochure describes how the campus security system works and how you can access this system in an emergency. It covers safety and security in student housing and academic and administrative buildings, the university's policies on alcohol and drugs, and describes substance abuse prevention and education programs currently in place.

Working through its Safety & Security Office, the university makes every effort to prevent crime on campus. However, Johnson & Wales also recognizes the crucial role that individuals must play in protecting themselves and others from harm. The university encourages all students, faculty and staff to use the personal safety tips provided by Safety & Security's Crime Prevention Unit and to report immediately all crimes, suspicious activities or emergencies occurring on or off campus to Safety & Security's operations center dispatch or to local police.

CAMPUS SAFETY OFFICE

All department personnel are hired by HSS Security Services in compliance with Colorado law and are licensed by the City and County of Denver. Safety officers routinely patrol campus areas in vehicles or on foot. They respond to all calls for service including emergencies and unusual incidents. Officers do not have arrest powers but can detain individuals until the arrival of Denver Police if campus safety officers have probable cause that an individual has violated city, state or federal law. Denver Police officers make the final determination of charges filed and custody of detained persons. The Campus Safety Department takes action according to the following circumstances.

The Denver Police Department investigates felony and serious misdemeanor crimes reported to Campus Safety. Campus Safety officers investigating minor offenses involve Denver Police at the request of the victim or the university. However, Denver Police may not dispatch officers to directly respond to such incidents.

All campus security personnel attend mandatory in-service training to keep up to date on regulations and to improve their skills, and all are trained in first aid/CPR.

Campus Safety has developed highly cooperative relationships with state and local police departments to help ensure prompt and efficient action in apprehending alleged criminals and preventing crime. Denver Police has agreed to notify Campus Safety when police investigate a crime involving a student or when a third party calls the police to campus.

REPORTING A CRIME OR OTHER EMERGENCY

The university adheres to the following policy regarding the reporting of crime:

Johnson & Wales University strongly encourages the prompt and accurate reporting of all criminal or suspicious activities occurring on or near campus. A student or employee or campus security authority who has witnessed any suspicious or apparent criminal action should immediately contact Campus Safety (303-256-9500), a campus safety officer, a resident assistant or local police.

Reports of criminal actions or other emergencies occurring on or near campus or in any building or property owned or controlled by the university or recognized student organization, should be made to any safety officer either in person, by picking up a blue campus emergency phone or by dialing 303-256-9500 from any other phone.

The Campus Safety Office is located at 7150 Montview Boulevard, Denver, Colorado 80220.

Because Campus Safety officers are regularly on patrol, individuals should contact the Campus Safety Department (303-256-9500) to request an officer to respond to the Campus Safety Office. Reports can also be made to Campus Safety officers patrolling on foot or in clearly marked vehicles, or individuals can contact residence hall personnel who will, in turn, contact Campus Safety.

Campus Safety personnel will immediately evaluate each report and take appropriate actions, such as calling an emergency medical team or reporting the matter to local police. Campus Safety will also respond to the scene. When an officer arrives, a preliminary investigation will be completed, and further action will be coordinated with the Denver Police Department, if appropriate. In all cases, an incident report will be completed. Additional investigation may be conducted as necessary. If a student is identified as a suspect, the report will be forwarded to appropriate university officials for Student Conduct

Review and possible disciplinary action.

Information, signed or anonymous, on any criminal or safety issue can be mailed to Campus Safety at the address listed on Page 3.

Johnson & Wales University is not required to include crimes reported only to a pastoral or professional counselor in the crime statistics published in this report. Students who seek personal counseling on campus are advised that if they disclose information that the university counselor considers to be a current threat to others, the counselor may release the information to appropriate authorities including university administration, Campus Safety, the local police, or the student's parents or guardians. Students are also advised that the university will release information when required by law.

In order to keep the campus community informed on an ongoing basis, the university will alert the community of certain crimes in a manner that is timely and will aid in the prevention of similar crimes. An alert will be issued and posted for all Clery Act crimes that are reported to campus security authorities, or are reported to the university by local police agencies, and are considered by the university to represent a serious or continuing threat to students and employees. These postings inform community members of the nature of the critical incident, the manner in which to report similar incidents, and, in addition, provide prevention tips to avoid being victimized. Campus Safety also maintains a written Daily Crime Log that is available for review upon request.

SECURITY OF CAMPUS FACILITIES

Residence Halls: To protect students, staff and guests, campus safety officers patrol the perimeters of residence halls 24 hours a day on foot and in marked vehicles. Additional patrols are assigned to problem areas as needed.

Residents access the residence halls with student I.D. card readers. Students will only be given access to the residence hall they are assigned. Residents are authorized to offer entrance to their guests only. Knowingly offering entrance to or aiding entrance of a non-resident is a serious violation of university policy. In addition, students are obligated to make all reasonable attempts to address violations of residence hall safety including reporting violations to Campus Safety at 303-256-9500.

During school breaks and vacations, Campus Safety officers continue to patrol and check residence halls.

Administrative and Academic Facilities:

Card readers have been installed on all academic building entrances allowing the Campus Safety Office to secure buildings and still allow students and staff access. Campus Safety administers the access control system that performs the unlock and secure functions. Closed circuit security cameras have been installed at all building entrances and in all parking lots. Cameras will be used for investigative purposes and may not be monitored at all times.

Timely Maintenance for Security: Any maintenance problem affecting a residence hall, administration or classroom building receives a work order, prioritized for safety issues.

Fire Safety: The university maintains a log of all fires that occur in on-campus student housing. In addition, in compliance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, the university will publish annually a fire safety report which will describe the campus' fire safety practices and standards and contain statistics concerning the number of fires, deaths, injuries, fire drills, and fire-related property damage within each residence hall and other fire safety information. Once published, copies of the annual fire safety report may be obtained by calling 303-256-9500 or by visiting the Web site at www.jwu.edu/denv/security/index.htm.

KEEPING THE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY INFORMED

A major goal of the university is to keep students, faculty and staff informed about campus security procedures and to encourage them to act responsibly to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Incoming freshmen students are instructed on how to report a crime or emergency, on the functions of the Campus Safety Office, and on the consequences of possessing drugs, alcohol or other contraband on and off campus. In addition, annual faculty and staff training is provided as requested. Periodic information is distributed to all community members in newsletters and other sources or at meetings and other events in the form of flyers or class announcements. Information will also be displayed in public places.

Connect-ED Notification System to Enhance Emergency Preparedness: The safety of our students, faculty and staff is a constant priority at Johnson & Wales University (JWU). The ability to quickly provide notice, accurate information and instructions with minimum delay during a situation is crucial. To accomplish this JWU has selected Connect-ED, a multi-modal communication service that will allow JWU campus leaders and security personnel to deliver time-sensitive voicemail notifications to our students, faculty and staff during unforeseen events or emergencies.

This system complements our existing campus emergency response plans which are continuously updated to be responsive to both man-made and natural disasters. University and campus leaders have integrated our computer systems with the Connect-ED system. The Connect-ED system will only be used during emergencies (and for related tests.)

Missing Student Policy: Any student who resides in an on-campus residence hall has the option to designate a contact person to be notified if the student is determined to be missing for more than 24 hours. For all intents and purposes the emergency contact provided on the initial Health Services form will be contacted. This information may be viewed on uconnect.jwu.edu. If a student would like to designate another contact, he/she may contact the Health and Wellness Center for further information and instructions.

CAMPUS SEX CRIMES PREVENTION ACT (CSCPA)

The CSCPA provisions appear in subsection (j) of the Wetterling Act [42 U.S.C. 14071(j)]. As provided in subsection (j), any person required to register under a state sex offender registration program must notify the state concerning each institution of higher education in the state at which the person is a student or works, and of each change in enrollment or employment status of the person at such an institution.

State procedures must also ensure that information concerning a registrant enrolled or working at an institution of higher education is promptly made available to a law enforcement agency having jurisdiction where the institution is located, and entered into the appropriate state records or data system.

In accordance with requirements of the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, information concerning registered sex offenders employed, enrolled as a student, or carrying on a vocation at this institution can be obtained, to the extent permitted by law, by contacting the Denver Police Department — Sex Offense Registration Unit (1331 Cherokee Street, Denver, CO 80204) at 720-913-6050 or <http://sor.state.co.us>.

CRIME PREVENTION

Because Johnson & Wales believes crime prevention begins with awareness, the university takes every opportunity to heighten that awareness.

A Crime Prevention initiative has been established within the Campus Safety Office to help students, faculty and staff understand the potential hazards of campus life. New student orientations cover topics such as "Crime Prevention," "Maximizing Safety on Campus," "Sexual Assault Education," "Residence Hall Safety" and "Alcohol/Substance Abuse."

Programs: In order to teach students how to prevent all types of sexual assault, including date rape, educational programs are held in each residence hall. These programs are sponsored by resident assistants and the Student Health and Wellness Center.

SEXUAL ASSAULT POLICY

Johnson & Wales University prohibits sexual assault, sexual battery, and other unlawful sexual activity, and offers programs aimed at the prevention of sexual offenses. These offenses are violations of state criminal law as well as the university's Student Code of Conduct. In considering sex offenses, the university refers to the laws of Rhode Island, Florida, Colorado and North Carolina. While these laws are complex (containing a variety of technical definitions, distinctions between first- and second-degree offenses, situations constituting statutory rape, etc.), a summary of the basic elements of sexual assault, sexual battery and other serious sexual offenses in all four states would generally encompass the following:

- Non-consensual or coerced.
- Sexual activity.
- For purposes of sexual arousal, gratification, or abuse.

Non-consensual sexual activity takes place when the victim does not or cannot (because the victim is mentally or physically disabled, incapacitated or impaired) give intelligent, knowing and voluntary consent. While consent can be expressed in a variety of ways through words, attitude or action, a failure to resist does not, in and of itself, signify consent. Coercion includes force or violence or the threat of force or violence against the victim or someone else, or any other means calculated to cause submission against the victim's will.

Sexual activity includes not only intercourse, but any penetration into a genital or anal opening of a victim with a body part or any object. It also includes other sexual contact such as being touched by or being forced to touch (with your hand or any other part of your body) another person's sex organs, breasts, groin, buttocks or anus (whether clothed or unclothed) or being touched in or around any of these places (whether clothed or unclothed) by another person.

When any of these activities appears to be for the purposes of sexual arousal, gratification, or abuse on the part of one person and is non-consensual or coerced on the part of the other person, it will constitute a sexual offense. If there is reason to believe that a sex offense has occurred, either on or off campus, the administration may pursue disciplinary action through the university's student conduct review process and/or any other available procedures.

Johnson & Wales University strives to be supportive and accommodating for all victims of sexual assault. Representatives from a number of university departments such as Residential Education (Resident Assistants and Head Residents), Campus Safety, Crisis Counseling (including on call counseling) Student Affairs, and Health Services will make every effort to help in these ways:

1. We will meet with you privately at a place of your choice on campus to take a statement and explain your options.
2. We will make every effort to maintain confidentiality.
3. We will not prejudice you.
4. We will treat you and your particular situation with courtesy, sensitivity, dignity, understanding and professionalism.
5. If you feel more comfortable talking with either a female or male counselor or representative, we will do our best to accommodate your request.

6. We will assist you in arranging for any hospital treatment or medical needs.
7. We can assist you in privately contacting counseling, campus safety, advising and other available resources, both on campus and in the community.
8. We will fully investigate your report with respect and discretion.
9. We will continue to be available for you — to answer your questions, explain the systems and processes involved, and be willing listeners.
10. We will consider your report seriously, regardless of your gender or the gender of the alleged violator.

EDUCATION AND PREVENTION PROGRAMS

The Denver Campus maintains sexual assault education and prevention programs focused on risk reduction, sexual assault prevention and responses to sexual assault. Literature dealing with issues of sexual assault is available from Campus Safety and Student Affairs. All residential education staff are trained to deal with issues of sexual assault. Resident Assistants help promote sexual assault prevention by participating in educational programs for students in their residence halls.

Education programs promote awareness of rape, acquaintance rape, and other forcible and non-forcible sex offenses. Johnson & Wales University takes a proactive stance to educate its student body regarding issues of sexual assault and methods of prevention. Students receive sexual assault education at various times.

STEPS TO FOLLOW IF A SEXUAL ASSAULT OCCURS

If you believe you are the victim of a sexual assault, you should take the following steps:

- Go to a safe place.
- Tell someone.

Your options include:

- o Reporting the assault to Campus Safety (303-256-9500) or a Residential Education staff member (such as your RA or HR); and/or
- o Reporting the assault to law enforcement authorities by dialing 911 or contacting the appropriate police at the numbers listed under “Getting Help” below; or
- o Contacting any of the other organization or departments listed under “Getting Help” below; or
- o If you choose not to report the assault, but to seek only counseling assistance, without disclosing any details of the incident, asking a Residential Education member or Campus Safety to contact the on-call counselor.

Seek medical attention immediately. Both male and female students can be victims of sexual assault. Victims are encouraged to go to the nearest hospital (see hospitals listed under “Getting Help” below). Medical attention is critical so that any injuries (including internal injuries) or infections which may have resulted from the assault can be treated. Getting an exam does not mean you have to press charges; however, a medical exam will help to preserve evidence if you should choose to press charges at some point.

- Leave evidence at the scene of the assault if possible.
- Report the assault to the police and Campus Safety immediately. Campus Safety will contact the university’s counseling department. If you choose, a counselor will be available to meet with you at once.
- Preserve and record evidence, including the following:
 - o Do not wash anything (including your hands, mouth and face).
 - o Do not wash or comb your hair.
 - o Do not shower, douche, or change your clothes.
 - o Bring an extra set of clothes with you to the hospital.

- o Record a description of the assailant (including type of clothing, race, age, height, weight, hair color, eye color, distinguishing marks, etc.).
- o Record where the assault occurred and description and direction of travel of any vehicle involved.
- You may seek assistance in changing existing academic and living situations after an alleged sexual assault incident. The university will make every effort to honor your request if such changes are reasonably available.
- You may seek additional help, counseling and assistance. People and organizations offering these services are listed under “Getting Help” below.

GETTING HELP

The single most important thing a rape victim can do is tell someone—the police, a friend, a community based rape crisis center, a counselor. Do not isolate yourself, do not feel guilty, do not blame yourself and do not just ignore it. Sexual assault, whether by a stranger or someone you know, is a violation of your body and your trust. The organizations and departments listed below can provide or arrange for immediate support and response, including, arrangements for emergency services, if needed; transportation to medical resources; contact with local authorities; information regarding criminal and civil proceedings and/or the university’s Student Conduct Review procedures, as appropriate; advocacy services; referrals/advice regarding university and community counseling services; and assistance with personal safety.

WHAT ACTION MAY BE TAKEN

1. Criminal Prosecution: If you choose to pursue criminal prosecution through the courts, the incident should be reported to the police. Campus personnel are able to assist you when notifying local or campus authorities. Remember, a police report does not require a victim to prosecute.
2. University Disciplinary Action: A sexual assault is a violation of the university's Student Code of Conduct and reports of sexual assault by students are addressed through the university's Student Conduct Review procedures. Any student who admits responsibility for, or is found responsible for, a sexual assault under the Student Code of Conduct will, at a minimum, receive a sanction of suspension which may last until the victim graduates. To ensure fairness, sensitivity and respect for the rights of the victim and the alleged violator, the following are applicable to student conduct proceedings involving sexual assaults:

- The victim has the right to a speedy hearing.
- The victim has the right to make a "victim impact statement" in addition to an incident report. This statement will be considered by the judicial body if the alleged violator is found responsible.
- Both the accuser and the accused will be informed of the final determination of any disciplinary proceeding brought alleging a sexual offense and any sanction imposed against the accused. When any one of the options above is pursued, you do not forfeit your right to pursue the remaining options. Compliance with the items listed above does not constitute a violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (20 U.S.C. 12 32G).

DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

The following statement constitutes Johnson & Wales University's policy regarding drugs and alcohol:

Johnson & Wales University prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of narcotics, drugs, or other controlled substances at the workplace and in the education setting. In addition, possession or use of alcoholic beverages anywhere on the university premises is prohibited, except for lawful use at events, operations, or programs sanctioned by university officials. Unlawful for these purposes means in violation of federal, state, or local statutes, regulations, or ordinances. Workplace is defined as university premises or any place where university business is conducted away from University premises. Educational setting includes both university premises and approved educational sites off campus.

University policies and relevant laws regarding the possession or use of illegal drugs, narcotics or drug paraphernalia and illegal alcohol use are strictly enforced at the university through Campus Safety & Security and/or Human Resources, together with federal, state, and local law enforcement officials when called for. Johnson & Wales University is not, and cannot be considered, a protector or sanctuary from the existing laws of the city, state, and federal governments.

A violation of this policy by a student constitutes a violation of the Student Code of Conduct. Disciplinary sanctions which may be imposed on a student's violation of this policy include, but are not limited to: reprimand, revocation of certain privileges, campus service, deferred suspension, suspension, or permanent dismissal from the university.

To ensure that all incoming students are aware of the alcohol and drug laws of the state of Colorado, an outline of Colorado penalties for drug- and alcohol-related offenses is included in the Student Handbook.

All employees of the university, as a condition of employment, must agree to abide by the terms of this policy. In addition, all employees must notify the university of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after such conviction.

As a reminder of the university's policy, a copy of the drug-free policy statement is distributed to each faculty and staff member once a year.

Substance Abuse Prevention: Given the problems associated with consumption of alcohol or drugs, Johnson & Wales offers a variety of prevention programs for students. The university provides all students with a short, educational program on alcohol/substance abuse as part of new student orientation. One section of the program contains a substance abuse presentation.

Rehabilitation Programs: Students who have been disciplined through the university's conduct review system for substance abuse or for negative behavior resulting from substance abuse receive sanctions underscoring the consequences for repeating similar behavior.

Counseling is available through the university's Health Center. Each student is entitled to three free clinical visits. Counselors refer any students with chronic abuse problems who need additional visits to an outpatient program.

Substance Abuse Awareness: The university community takes an active role in raising awareness of substance abuse among its students, faculty and staff. Campus activities and the resident assistants sponsor various events and faculty, students and staff are encouraged to attend these events, which are publicized through employee and student newsletters, flyers and posters.

CRIME STATISTICS

Crime statistics for Johnson & Wales University are prepared by the Campus Safety Office in conjunction with the university's Compliance Office. Johnson & Wales University compiles its crime statistics using the uniform crime reporting system of the Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation, including any modifications pursuant to the Hate Crime Statistics Act.

Please note that the university's crime statistics include not only crimes that have been reported to state and local police authorities, but also crimes reported to campus security authorities which may not have been reported to the police (for example, minor violations of the Student Code of Conduct or crimes where the victim chooses not to press criminal charges).

The primary source for Johnson & Wales University's statistics is reports received by the university's Campus Safety Office. All crimes involving university students, personnel, and/or property are required to be reported to Campus Safety. Other individuals who have significant responsibilities for student and campus activities are also surveyed. If these individuals disclose any crimes that may not have been reported to Campus Safety, the crimes are also included in the crime statistics.

Finally, the crime statistics include crimes that have occurred in or on non-campus buildings and property owned or controlled by Johnson & Wales University or by an officially recognized student organization, as well as on public property (including thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, and parking facilities) that is adjacent to and accessible from the campus. The university requests information on these crimes from state and/or local police agencies for inclusion in the crime statistics whether or not they were previously reported to campus security authorities.
