RACHEL DAVIES '17

Accounting

Rachel Davies has spent her four years at JWU experiencing her future. She has held three internships, two of them at JWU in the Internal Audit and Finance offices, where she reconciled intercompany transactions, university bank statements and contribution reports. She began her freshman year on a work study in Student Employment and impressed her colleagues so much that she was promoted to student employment assistant to meet students' payroll and work study needs.

In the summer of 2016, Davies was a financial services tax intern at Ernst & Young in Providence preparing client tax returns — an experience that took her to Boston, Chicago and Orlando, Florida. Upon completion of her internship, the company offered her a full-time job as a tax associate for July 2017.

A member of the Rhode Island Society of Certified Public Accountants and JWU's Accounting Association since 2013, Davis became the Accounting Association's secretary in 2015 and president in 2016. She has also been a participant in the Internal Revenue Service Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program and college intramural soccer. A 2016–17 Becker CPA campus ambassador, Davies has competed in the CVS 5K Downtown Providence and the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life, and has volunteered for the Boys & Girls Club and the Ronald McDonald House as a member and treasurer of Sigma Delta Tau.

As she graduates today summa cum laude, she is already preparing for the next part of her future: studying for the CPA exam.

Alumni Speaker

MARIE BERNARDO-SOUSA, LP.D., '92

Senior Vice President of Administration

Johnson & Wales University

Marie Bernardo-Sousa has been invested in Johnson & Wales University since she arrived as a student in 1988 and joined the Registrar's Office. After five years she moved to Admissions and became director of special events.

In 1999, she was promoted again to have oversight of admissions for the College of Business, The Hospitality College and the School of Technology. Prior to assuming her current position in 2014, she served as senior vice president of student services, vice president of student services, university registrar, and executive director of student academic & financial services.

In her current role, Bernardo-Sousa leads the areas of Student Academic & Financial Services, Student Affairs, Athletics, JWU Global, Auxiliary Services, Institutional Research and Enrollment Management. With a keen commitment to the student experience, she has a long history of fostering collaboration among departments and across campuses, including leading the student services teams through the conversion to a new student record management system and launch of the student communications portal, jwuLink. She is also responsible for managing staff through ongoing change initiatives to ensure students receive exceptional customer service.

Honorary Degree Recipient

DAVID L. WARREN, PH.D.

Doctor of Humane Letters

David L. Warren, Ph.D., became president of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (NAICU) in 1993, after nearly a decade as president of Ohio Wesleyan University.

A tireless crusader for America's private colleges and for increased financial aid funding for all college students, Warren is widely regarded as one of the most persuasive and influential voices for higher education within Washington, D.C. He is frequently asked to speak at higher education national conferences and on campuses, and is regularly quoted by the news media on national higher education issues.

Warren has co-chaired the National Campus Voter Registration Project which, in each presidential and congressional election since 1998, has engaged the nation's campuses in the political and electoral process. He has spearheaded the Student Aid Alliance, an ongoing campaign of 50 higher education associations to expand student aid, which has resulted in the doubling of Pell Grant funding. He is responsible for the creation of Campus Compact, an initiative to gain national recognition for the community service and civic engagement contributions by America's colleges and universities, and the University & College Accountability Network (U-CAN), a major national effort to enhance consumers' access to comparative information on colleges and universities.

More recently, Warren was a driving force on behalf of all higher education in shaping the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, which was signed into law in 2008 after five years of deliberation and debate. NAICU also took a leadership role in the passage of the new GI Bill, with its provisions for the participation of independent higher education through the Yellow Ribbon Program. Now, in response to administration calls for dramatically increasing the national college graduation rate over the next decade, he has led NAICU in launching Building Blocks to 2020, a major effort to encourage and report on the role of America's private colleges and universities in achieving greater access to and completion of a college education.

Before becoming president of Ohio Wesleyan, Warren was the chief administrative officer of the City of New Haven, Connecticut. He held a variety of positions at Antioch University in Yellow Springs, Ohio, including senior vice president and university provost. He held administrative and faculty positions at Yale University, including assistant secretary for state and community relations, and executive director of Dwight Hall, a privately endowed center that provides Yale students with volunteer, work-study and field-based learning opportunities.

Warren graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a bachelor's degree in English from Washington State University. He earned master's degrees with honors in both divinity and urban studies from Yale University, and a doctorate in higher education administration from the University of Michigan. He was a Fulbright Scholar in India and a Rockefeller Fellow at Yale.

Warren and his wife, Ellen, have raised two sons and a daughter: Jamison, Mackenzie and Katrin.

Deans Angela Renaud, Ed.D.; Louis A. D'Abrosca, Ed.D.; Frank X. Tweedie '98 M.S.; Paul McVety '09 Ed.D.; Cynthia L. Parker, Ed.D.; and the faculty of John Hazen White College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business, the School of Engineering & Design and the School of Hospitality proudly present their Classes of 2017.

Congratulations to Paul Sylvestre, Ph.D., John Hazen White College of Arts & Sciences Faculty Member of the Year; John Varlaro, Ph.D., School of Business Faculty Member of the Year; Wai Yung, School of Engineering & Design Faculty Member of the Year; and Paul Bagdan, Ph.D., School of Hospitality Faculty Member of the Year.

Symbols of Commencement

UNIVERSITY SEAL

The university seal represents Johnson & Wales University's roots. The year at the top of the shield, 1914, is the year that the university was founded by Gertrude I. Johnson and Mary T. Wales. The dragon of St. George on the upper portion of the crest honors the Wales family, while the lower portion of the crest bears the cross of St. John and honors the Johnson family.

MACE

The Johnson & Wales University mace symbolizes the ideals and values of JWU's educational philosophy. Cast of silver and bronze, it is engraved with the names of our founders and presidents, past and present. Our campus locations are engraved on the golden bands. On ceremonial occasions, university officials carry the mace to display the unity and continuity of Johnson & Wales University.

The mace dates to medieval times, when it was first used as a weapon. Forbidden to use swords, medieval European bishops were allowed to enter battle with a mace — typically an iron or steel club designed to split armor. By the 16th century, the mace had become a symbol of authority that colleges and universities began using ceremonially. That tradition continues today, and the mace is carried as part of formal academic occasions like these at colleges and universities across the globe.

ACADEMIC DRESS

The tradition of wearing distinctive dress for academic reasons dates back to the Middle Ages. Today, academic costumes are usually worn in the United States by people participating in academic ceremonies.

The faculty and platform party wear regalia representative of the degrees they possess.

HOODS

Originating from the cowls of monastic orders, the hoods are the most dramatic part of the academic regalia. Their shape and size indicate the level of degree attained, and the colors reflect both the academic field as well as the institution that granted the degree.

The fields of study most frequently represented in academic processions are the following:

FIELD OF STUDY	COLOR
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Business, Commerce	Nugget
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Law	Purple
Physician Assistant Studies	Green
Social Work	Citron

CAPS

There is more variety in the shape and color of academic hats than in any other area. Master's and doctoral degree recipients wear the tassel on the left throughout the ceremony, and the doctoral soft-cap often features a gold tassel.
