Chancellor John J. Bowen '77

In January 2018, Chancellor John J. Bowen announced his retirement from Johnson & Wales University at the end of the 2018 calendar year, bringing to a close a tenure where he has been at the forefront of the transformation of JWU into the pioneering educational institution it is today.

Chancellor Bowen's impacts on the university are immeasurable. He helped guide the university's development of culinary arts education as a faculty member, director and dean. He reaffirmed the university's focus on career education by establishing what is today known as Experiential Education & Career Services.

As vice president of administration, executive vice president, president of the Providence Campus, university president, chief executive officer and chancellor, he has implemented a vision for the growth of JWU and its Downcity and Harborside communities. One of Chancellor Bowen's proudest accomplishments is the establishment of the Chancellor's Student Relief Fund, which provides support for students facing unexpected financial needs in emergency situations so they can continue pursuing their dream of a Johnson & Wales education.

On the occasion of his announcement, Chair of the JWU Board of Trustees James H. Hance Jr. '06 Hon., wrote to the JWU community:

"On behalf of the Board of Trustees, we acknowledge Chancellor John Bowen's announcement of his intent to retire at the end of 2018. We wish to express our gratitude for his 45 years of extraordinary dedication and service to Johnson & Wales University. His accomplishments during his time are numerous and impactful.

"Johnson & Wales has transformed under John's leadership in many vital ways. He has made complicated and bold decisions in the best interest of our university. FOCUS 2011 was an ambitious plan that launched Johnson & Wales into uncharted areas. John and his team deftly recognized the need to address many issues such as affordability and retention efforts ahead of many of our peers. Through thoughtful and deliberate planning, he has moved this university in new directions, most recently health sciences, always with the intent to provide our students with better professional and personal lives. In September 2016, we recognized and celebrated his leadership with the dedication of the John J. Bowen Center for Science and Innovation – a fitting tribute to his more than four decades of service to the students, faculty and staff of Johnson & Wales."

The JWU community thanks Chancellor Bowen for his inspiring 45 years of dedication to Johnson & Wales University and extends its congratulations and best wishes to First Lady Kathleen Harney and Chancellor Bowen as they prepare for the next chapter in their lives.

Student Speaker

JOSEPHINE WOLFE '18

Baking & Pastry Arts and Food Service Management

Josephine Wolfe is a born leader who is proving her potential. She made the NCAA JWU Wildcats field hockey team as a first-year student in 2015 and played for two years before becoming a JWU assistant athletic trainer. She won the SkillsUSA national championship in commercial baking as a first-year student and earned medals in seven SkillsUSA commercial baking events throughout her college career. In 2017 she became the SkillsUSA national president for the college/postsecondary level, leading an organization of 400,000 members and advising the Office of Career, Technical and Adult Education for the United States Department of Education.

Wolfe spent one term as a full-time culinary demonstrator in high school classrooms along the East Coast to encourage students to enroll at JWU and pursue culinary arts careers. As an expeditor in the summer of 2017 at The Broken Oar Bar & Grill, a 300-seat restaurant, she helped increase cover numbers and employee productivity while lowering ticket times to under 15 minutes. She completed her internship at the Walt Disney World Resort's Yachtsman Steakhouse, and will be returning to Disney this summer, before interning as a baking & pastry arts instructor at The Center of Applied Technology North in Maryland. She has received a job offer from the Milwaukee Brewers and Green Bay Packers to join their stadium food service operations management team once she completes her teaching internship.

Earning certifications from the American Culinary Federation, the Retail Bakers of America, and the National Restaurant Association, Wolfe is graduating magna cum laude, completing JWU's bachelor's degree program requirements in three years.

Alumni Speaker

DIANE D'AMBRA, M.S., SPHR, SHRM-SCP

Vice President of Human Resources, Johnson & Wales University

Diane D'Ambra is an accomplished human resources professional with extensive senior-level experience in all aspects of human resources including strategic planning, organizational development, employee relations, compensation, benefits, recruitment, performance management, development and training, and regulatory compliance. A Johnson & Wales alumna, she holds a master's degree in Human Resource Development from Villanova University and earned her senior professional in human resources (SPHR) certification from the HR Certification Institute as well as senior certified professional (SHRM-SCP) certification from the Society for Human Resource Management.

D'Ambra began her career at the university in 1983 when she worked as a payroll assistant. After seven years in that role, she transitioned to assistant director of payroll & personnel where she redesigned the employee health insurance benefits program, combining eight regional plans into one comprehensive national plan. She also restructured the student employment programs to give students more meaningful work opportunities.

D'Ambra was instrumental in establishing JWU's human resources structure and in 2000, was promoted to director of human resources. In this position, she helped build consistent standards of excellence universitywide by creating and implementing the JWU Employee Competency Model. During that time, she also redesigned the employee retirement benefit which has resulted in a successful program with 97 percent employee participation.

In her current role as vice president of human resources, D'Ambra is a member of the president's senior management team. She provides strategic human resources leadership for a multi-state, multi-campus system with more than 2,000 employees and 14,000 students while leading 30-plus staff members.

Honorary Degree Recipient

MARIBETH NAUGHTON BISIENERE

Doctor of Business Administration

Maribeth Naughton Bisienere was recently named senior vice president of Walt Disney World Parks and Security, creating one-of-a-kind Disney experiences for millions of guests every year at the Walt Disney World Resort in Lake Buena Vista, Florida.

During her more than 20 years with Walt Disney Parks & Resorts, Bisienere has held positions in food and beverage and merchandise operations lines of business, resort operations, diversity and inclusion, new business development, and operating participants and corporate alliance development. She is a member of the National Restaurant Association's executive board of directors.

In her current role, Bisienere is in charge of all four of the Walt Disney World Resort theme parks as well as their overall site security efforts. She also oversees Walt Disney World Resort's two world-class water parks — Disney's Typhoon Lagoon and Disney's Blizzard Beach Water Park — and two 18-hole miniature golf courses.

She recently led the food and beverage line-of-business team responsible for all processes of beverage, culinary, supply chain, and front of house for all Walt Disney World properties. In addition, Bisienere was instrumental in creating the concept and menu development for large new assets and drove the strategy for health, wellness and sustainability.

Under her leadership, Bisienere managed the redevelopment of the former Downtown Disney and led the reimagined retail, dining and entertainment district known as Disney Springs. The New York Times recently named Disney Springs "an unexpected culinary destination" and listed it as one of "52 Places To Go in 2018."

In addition, Bisienere led strategic growth and management of the ESPN Wide World of Sports Complex in Florida, which is the industry leader in youth sports events, and the runDisney endurance event business, which spans five race weekends and brings thousands of runners to Disney parks yearly.

With an eye toward Walt Disney World Resort's upcoming 50th anniversary, Bisienere helped lead the efforts around reimagining the cast member and guest experience. Her team is focused on driving an evolution in employee culture through enhanced communication, improved training and development, and the identification of opportunities to celebrate the ways that the cast create magic for each other and guests.

Community service is a passion for Bisienere. She currently serves the Central Florida community as a board member for Heart of Florida United Way, Florida Citrus Sports and Orlando Magic Youth Foundation. She is also Disney's United Way executive champion.

Bisienere graduated from Cedar Crest College in Pennsylvania, where she studied political science and social work. She attended the University of Colorado where she earned a certificate in Resort Condominium Management. She has also completed the General Managers Program at Cornell University's School of Hotel Administration in Ithaca, New York.

Honorary Degree Recipient

PAUL F. O'REILLY

Doctor of Business Administration

Paul F. O'Reilly is the president and chief executive officer of Newport Harbor Corporation (NHC), which owns and operates a diverse portfolio of hospitality businesses throughout Rhode Island and the greater-Boston area.

An Aquidneck Island native, O'Reilly began his NHC career in 1992 as manager of the Newport Yachting Center marina, four years after graduating with a bachelor's degree in economics from Saint Michael's College in Vermont. He was then promoted to general manager of Castle Hill Inn before assuming corporate responsibilities as executive vice president of business development. In 2007, O'Reilly was elected by NHC's Board of Directors to be CEO of the company.

His early experience as a hospitality operator has proven invaluable to his current success as CEO, where he has managed numerous multimillion-dollar development projects from design inception to profitable businesses. In the past decade under his leadership, NHC has grown to an $80 million company with over 1,300 employees. Mature brands under his watch achieved new renown: Castle Hill Inn was named a Relais & Châteaux property, and The Mooring and Smoke House restaurants both underwent rebranding and expansions, increasing sales. In addition, O'Reilly led his team in the creation of a number of now iconic Rhode Island restaurants, including Trio in Narragansett, Waterman Grille in Providence, the Boat House in Tiverton, and most recently Avvio in Garden City, Cranston. His guidance was also instrumental in the launch of Bohlin, a new waterfront event venue in downtown Newport.

Perhaps O'Reilly's most significant contribution to the growth of NHC, however, has been his successful expansion of the company's unique hospitality culture, talent and knowledge to the greater-Boston area. He and his team are currently focused on developing a number of new projects in the city and increasing the company's reach into larger metropolitan markets across New England.

While O'Reilly is clearly comfortable creating and growing hospitality brands, he cites leading the seamless transition of the company to an ESOP, or an Employee Stock Ownership Plan, as his most rewarding accomplishment. NHC's employees currently own 80 percent of the company, and O'Reilly feels this employee-ownership culture is the true driving force behind NHC's continued success.

In addition to his employees, O'Reilly is equally committed to the communities NHC serves. He became a strong supporter of the local food movement following the lead of Chef Casey Riley, who worked with O'Reilly at Castle Hill in his early years. In 2006 O'Reilly helped to spearhead the now-acclaimed Farm Fresh Local Food Fest. Additionally, O'Reilly has initiated oyster shell recycling through the Nature Conservancy and was an early adopter of fry oil recycling through Newport Biodiesel.

As he transitioned to a corporate role, O'Reilly brought his dedication to local farmers and artisans with him, and now NHC is one of the largest buyers of local produce, meats and seafood in the state. NHC is also a loyal supporter of a number of hospitality nonprofits and associations including Farm Fresh, Rhode Island Hospitality Association, Chef Collaborative, Grow Smart, Aquidneck Community Table, New England Innkeepers Association, Relais & Châteaux, and the James Beard Foundation.

Outside of the company, O'Reilly remains active in supporting local initiatives. Boards and committees he has served on include the Aquidneck Island Land Trust, the Potter League for Animals, the Newport Chamber of Commerce and the Oliver Hazard Perry: Education at Sea. He and his family live in Jamestown, Rhode Island.

Deans Susan D. Marshall, Ed.D.; Paul McVety '09 Ed.D.; Cynthia L. Parker, Ed.D., and the faculty of the College of Culinary Arts, College of Hospitality Management and College of Online Education proudly present their Classes of 2018.

Congratulations to Matthew M. Britt, College of Culinary Arts Faculty Member of the Year; Kara Cucinotta, College of Health & Wellness Faculty Member of the Year; and Elizabeth Covino, College of Hospitality Management Faculty Member of the Year.

Symbols of Commencement

UNIVERSITY SEAL

The university seal represents Johnson & Wales University's roots. The year at the top of the shield, 1914, is the year that the university was founded by Gertrude I. Johnson and Mary T. Wales. The dragon of St. George on the upper portion of the crest honors the Wales family, while the lower portion of the crest bears the cross of St. John and honors the Johnson family.

MACE

The Johnson & Wales University mace symbolizes the ideals and values of JWU's educational philosophy. Cast of silver and bronze, it is engraved with the names of our founders and presidents, past and present. Our campus locations are engraved on the golden bands. On ceremonial occasions, university officials carry the mace to display the unity and continuity of Johnson & Wales University.

The mace dates to medieval times, when it was first used as a weapon. Forbidden to use swords, medieval European bishops were allowed to enter battle with a mace — typically an iron or steel club designed to split armor. By the 16th century, the mace had become a symbol of authority that colleges and universities began using ceremonially. That tradition continues today, and the mace is carried as part of formal academic occasions like these at colleges and universities across the globe.

ACADEMIC DRESS

The tradition of wearing distinctive dress for academic reasons dates back to the Middle Ages. Today, academic costumes are usually worn in the United States by people participating in academic ceremonies.

The faculty and platform party wear regalia representative of the degrees they possess.

HOODS

Originating from the cowls of monastic orders, the hoods are the most distinctive part of the academic regalia. Their shape and size indicate the level of degree attained, and the colors reflect both the academic field as well as the institution that granted the degree.

The fields of study most frequently represented in academic processions are the following:

FIELD OF STUDY	COLOR
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Business, Commerce	Nugget
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Law	Purple
Physician Assistant Studies	Green
Social Work	Citron

CAPS

There is more variety in the shape and color of academic hats than in any other area. Master's and doctoral degree recipients wear the tassel on the left throughout the ceremony, and the doctoral soft-cap often features a gold tassel.
